I'm Andy Povega, a Spanish actress with training and experience in stage and audiovisual acting. I have been lucky enough to live in many different places since I was little, thus I'm bilingual in both Spanish and English. I have participated in several short films and a variety of audiovisual projects, ranging from films to advertising, fashion films, even experimental projects that have not yet seen the light. I've recently been confirmed on two movies that will be shooting in Spain in the next year. Absolutely love what we do! A little bit more about me here: <https://www.andypovega.com/en>
